Sunday 4 December 2022 at 6pm in St Peter's Cathedral

30th anniversary of the ordination of women

The Magdalene Window, St Peter's Cathedral

In the Anglican Diocese of Adelaide on 5 December 1992, women were ordained as priests for the first time. This was only the second time in the Anglican Church in Australia.

Since then nearly 900 women have been ordained as priests and 10 have become bishops.

In the Diocese of Adelaide, more than 40 women priests have served in parishes, schools and hospitals.

Everyone is welcome to St Peter's Cathedral on 4 December 2022 at 6pm for a service of celebration and thanksgiving.

Gender and gender-based violence
– The Rev'd Dr Joan Riley, Principal of St Barnabas College; a founder of the Diocesan Family and Domestic Violence Response Project

First Nations – The Rev'd Cameron Burr, St Luke's, Modbury; a proud Boondik man and Deacon, soon to be ordained as a priest

Climate change – Dr Rachel Westcott, Warden St John's Coromandel Valley; Vet, founded SAVEM veterinary emergency management organisation

Rainbow inclusion – Ms Meriel Wilson, Lay Preacher, St Chad's Fullarton; long-standing LGBTQ+ activist.

The guest preacher on the first Sunday of Advent, the Rev'd Dr Joan Riley with Julia and Elizabeth. Rev'd Joan spoke about gender-based violence and encouraged the congregation to "be good bystanders ... say something. Don't let the church be a place where perpetrators of domestic violence can feel safe."

Flowers and Sevenhill wine to welcome the Anstey family who recently moved into the Rectory at St Theodore's, Toorak Gardens. The Rev'd Dr Matthew Anstey is the new Parish Priest.
