Kunba – the family: A folklore of Makrani fishermen

An adventure/thriller on 25th February @ Woodville Townhall and 9th March @ Lithuanian House. 2 shows each day. Join young Ali on his dangerous mission to find his father who was on a fishing trip and apparently died. But Ali's heart says his father is still alive and Ali must face his fears for the survival of his family. Brought to you by Rehana Usman of Studio Rags and performed by a team of high school students. [Rehana is a regular hirer of Kay Hall].

Partners: Fringe Fund, Shaukat Khanum Cancer Hospital and PAASA.

*Anglicans honour and value the many rich streams of theology and spirituality that have been part of Anglican history. Sometimes these streams appear to be in tension, incomplete or even to contradict each other. We are called to discern the truth in each stream, to hold them together, to uphold and promote our heritage as a free and welcoming church. One of the great treasures of Anglicanism is its long standing commitment to a broad based, comprehensive church. This has gone hand in hand with a constant striving to grow into the truth as it is found.
